6) The reply of the Reg. has 'O' in for Perusal. This question arose while the AG. orders the costs etc of Mr. CR. Reddy to incorporate it in the civil list. In his reply to a reference from the Reg., the Secy to Pro Chancellor has said that he is not in regular service of Govt., as he has been appointed on a Contract basis and has the status of a non-official. It is at this point the AG.
seeks clarification.

7) It is for consideration whether the view taken by the ~~the~~ Pro Chancellor may be accepted or not. Clarification at this point is necessary. He is a whole time officer having a status of a Minister. He can not be termed as ^{being} a non official status. He is a Letter No.19/3/50ESTS dated 9th March 1950 from the Joint Secretary to the Government of India, New Delhi, to the Chief Secretaries to all State Governments.

Subject:- Interpretation of the phrase, "employment under the Government of India or under the Government of a State" in Article 319 of the Constitution of India.

In connection with the interpretation of the provisions of Art. 319 of the Constitution of India, the following four questions have recently been examined:

(i) Will a Member of the Public Service Commission on ceasing to hold that office, be debarred from becoming a Member either of House of Parliament or of a State Legislature?

(ii) Does the answer to the above question vary according to whether or not a specific salary as distinct from allowances is payable to such Members of the ~~Parli~~ Parliament or of the State Legislatures?

(iii) Will a Member of the Public Service Commission, on ceasing to hold office, be prohibited from holding the office of a Parliamentary Secretary or Deputy Minister etc. at the Centre or in any of the States?

(iv) Will a Member of the Public Service Commission on ceasing to hold office, be prohibited from becoming a Member of the Council of Ministers at the Centre or in any of the States?

2. The Government of India are advised that the answers to these questions are as follows:-

(i) Under Article 319 the Chairman and Members of the various Public Service Commissions after ceasing to be such Members remain eligible for only certain appointments as specified in the Article and become ineligible for any other employment under the Government of India or under the Government of a State. A Member of Parliament.....

Parliament or of a State Legislature does not hold any of the offices mentioned in Article 319; nor does he hold any employment under the Government of India or under the Government of a State. The answer to the first question is in the negative.

(ii) The answer to the second question is also in the negative because any salary paid to the Member under Article 106 or under a similar provision is paid to him in his capacity as a Member, not in his capacity as an employee of the Government.

(iii) The Office of Parliamentary Secretary or Deputy Minister or Minister of State is not provided for ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ the Constitution. They hold their office by virtue of appointment made by Government. To get over the bar contained in Article 102 (1) (a) an Ordinance (Ordinance No. XII of 1950) has been promulgated in their case. This is on the footing that they hold an office of profit (which is also an employment) under the Government of India or the Government of any State. Therefore the answer to the third question is in the affirmative.

(iv) A Member of the Council of Ministers is appointed by the President or by the Governor or Rajpramukh. The executive authority of the Union or a State is vested in the President or the Governor or Rajpramukh. The function of the Council of Ministers is to aid and advise the President or the Governor or Rajpramukh. ~~The function of the Council of Ministers is to aid and advise the President or the Governor or Rajpramukh.~~ It is implicit in Articles 102 (2) and 191 (2) that except for the specific purposes of these Articles the Minister holds an Office of profit (which is also an employment) under the Government of India or the Government of any State. In the circumstances the employment of a Minister to aid and advise the President or the Governor or Rajpramukh is an employment under the Government of India or under the Government of a State for the purposes of Article 319 of the Constitution. The answer to the fourth question is in the affirmative.

3. Although at first sight it may seem odd to hold that Members of the Council of Ministers, Ministers of State, Deputy Ministers and Parliamentary Secretaries, are "employed" under the Government of India, or as the case may be, under the Government of a State, within the meaning of Article 319 of the Constitution, that is, in the opinion of the Government of India, the only right view to take. This opinion is, so far as Ministers are concerned, supported by the decision of the Privy Council in the case of King Emperor Vs.. Sibnath Banerji (72 Indian Appeals case 241 at page 266). A fortiori Ministers of State, Deputy Ministers and Parliamentary Secretaries must be regarded as holding employments under Government.

4. The conclusions reached by the Government of India in the matter have been set out above for the information and guidance of State Governments.

I do not think it was ever done. He can
